IMPORTANT NOTES REGARDING VERIFICATION

Individuals listed are in good standing with recertification due dates as shown.

ACDIS allows a 45-day grace period from certification expire date for individuals to submit their recertification application and list of CEUs.

When a certification is six months overdue, a $150 late fee is added to the regular recertification fee.

Certifications that are one year overdue are revoked and the individual must retest to gain the certification.

It is the CCDS-O holder's responsibility to know their recertification due date. ACDIS sends multiple email reminders to the email address on file and a letter by U.S. mail to the address on file when the certification is six months overdue.

ACDIS is not responsible for late, suspended, or revoked certifications.

Individuals whose certifications has lapsed should visit the ACDIS website for instructions about recertifying. Any questions should be sent to the Certification Office at certifications@hcpro.com.

Individuals verifying a credential should email the Certification Office with any additional questions.
